Dear Friends!

As the acting rector of the Ivano-Frankivsk National Medical University, I would like to welcome you to study at our public institution of higher education. Maintaining an academic tradition of more than 60 years, the University aims to provide students with high-quality learning and research. These high standards also extend to its different services as well as to its social and environmental needs. From Ukraine, our university is projected to the European medical and scientific development. Thus, its main aim is to play a relevant role in the framework of European Higher Learning Space, which is made in agreement with the Bologna Declaration. The IFNMU is directly committed to the quality of learning, research and services, as stated in its Strategic Plan, by means of which it aims to project itself to the future in order to transform its present and to solve the different demands of medicine.

In essence, our University puts its knowledge and leadership in the service of the demands of our society.

Professor Lyubomyr V. Glushko
